The Haliburton Trappers' Association held their first meeting of this season in the Orange hall basement at Haliburton, Monday, October 2 with close to 50 trappers attending.

Different problems were discussed before election of new officers was held.

The treasurer, Mr. Stan Cooper, gave his report which proved the association to be in good financial standing to start their new season off.

Election of officers was held with Harold Bannon elected for president for the fifth year, also James Ward elected vice president, a position which Wm. Ward held for four years. Lorne Barry was elected as secretary and Stan Cooper was returned back to office as treasurer for the second year.

Fur sales for the coming year were discussed with four sales planned.

Harold Bannon was elected to set and operate the fur sales this season with one or more trappers helping out if need be.

New directors were selected for this year by the president and general business discussed to end an enjoyable evening by the trappers.

LaPorte Home Gutted By Fire

The members of the Haliburton fire brigade are really on the hop these days. They had hardly arrived home from Eagle Lake on Thursday morning when the alarm sounded and they had to rush out to the residence of E. LaPorte which is situated on the Haliburton-Wilberforce highway.

They managed to get the fire under control before the

The Ontario Water Resources Commission has accepted the tender of C. H. Rutledge of Nobleton to carry out a test drilling program in Minden village.

The commission has taken options on three properties. The first site is located on the lot next to the public library. As well options have been taken on two lots on the farm of Leslie Prentice. Both are on the Bobcaygeon road, one across from the laundromat and the other across from the public school.

The plans call for drilling on the site at the library and if drilling is not successful at this location it will be continued on the other sites.

These locations have been chosen by geologists of the commission.

The council has authorized the OWRC to spend up to $7,500 for test drilling. It is expected this work will be completed this fall.

A large number of visitors were here last week and were quite disappointed that our trees had not yet donned their colorful autumn raiments.

Attempting to judge just what week end will be best to view this beautiful color panorama is a gamble at any time but this year, possibly due to a very late spring and above normal rainfall in this area, our leaves are very slow in changing color. It will be possibly 10 days yet before they are really at their best.

The uncertainty of just when the fall scenery will be at its best makes it most difficult for those planning festival of color programs. Such events as these must be planned months ahead and the sponsors of such programs are forced to rely on favorable weather conditions to insure their success.

Accidental Drowning Verdict Of Jury

An inquest was held on Tuesday, October 3 to enquire into the death of William G. Hamilton which occurred at Haliburton Lake on the afternoon of Sunday, September 3.

Coroner Dr. Harry E. Good conducted the inquest with attorney Lorne Jordan acting for the crown.

The jury was composed of the following: Clifford A. Dawson, Ronald J. Curry, Thomas Irwin, Russell Dart and Lewis Roberts. Mr. Dawson was chosen foreman.

Evidence adduced at the hearing would seem to indicate that the late Mr. Hamilton was considered a good boatman but as the result of injuries received in World War I he was drawing a total disability pension.

It would appear that Mr. Hamilton, accompanied by his son, Stanley, called at the cottage of Mr. Lockerby and there met Mr. Phillips. Stanley took the boat home and his father accompanied Mr. Phillips down to the shopping centre.

While returning they decided they would drop in and see Mr. Poole for whom Phillips was doing some work. There being nobody home at the Poole cottage the two men returned to the lake.

What transpired from then on will, it seems, always remain a mystery.

Late in the afternoon Mrs. Sutton and her two sons were cruising around South Bay when they saw a man sleeping on the beach. They also noticed a boat with something lying along side. Coming closer they realized that someone was drowning or had drowned and they at once called cottagers in the vicinity for help.

In a very short time they had pulled the late Mr. Hamilton from the water.

Dr. H. E. Good stated he arrived on the scene at about 6.15 p.m. and the Haliburton fire department had already arrived on the scene with their resuscitator. The doctor highly commended David Brown who had for 45 minutes administered mouth to mouth respiration in an attempt to revive the drowning victim.

The coroner also stated that in his opinion the body had been in the water for some time before being noticed.

According to the various witnesses who gave testimony the body, when discovered, was in about two feet of water.

After what we would term a careful review of all the evidence, the jury returned to the court room and presented their verdict which was as follows: That William G. Hamilton died between 3 and 5 o'clock in the afternoon on the third day of September at South Bay, Haliburton Lake in the Township of Harburn. Death was caused by accidental drowning possibly due to his age and physical disability, also the rough condition of the shore line.

We noticed that many of the cottagers from Haliburton lake took time to come to the inquest and we gather that William G. Hamilton, to whom they referred to as "Mac" was highly thought of.

Mr. Hamilton, who was in his 68th year at the time of the tragedy, might well have been termed a resident of the lake as he spent the greater part of the year there coming early in May and staying until late November.

Those left to survive the late Mr. Hamilton are his wife, Elizabeth, a son Stanley and two daughters, Dorothy and Patricia.

Archer Home At Eagle Lake Destroyed By Fire

About 4 a.m. Thursday one of the occupants at the residence of Mrs. Edward Archer awoke and found the house full of smoke and discovered that the rear of the building was afire.

The rest of the occupants were aroused and made their way to safety.

The Haliburton fire brigade were called by Mrs. Keith Carnochan, a neighbor and though they arrived on the scene as quickly as possible after receiving the call the blaze had made such headway that it was impossible to save the building or its contents. Though there is some insurance we understand it would not begin to cover the loss.

Many are beginning to ask the question: Is a fire bug at large in Eagle Lake? and when one considers that within the last two weeks the homes of James Flood, Steve Nyilas and now Mrs. Archer have all been destroyed by fire in the early morning hours, one begins to wonder.

When three fires break out in such a short period about the same hour of the morning and in the case of Mr. Nyilas, no one had been in the house the day preceding the blaze, people can be pardoned for getting alarmed.

Eagle Lake Home Destroyed By Fire

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Nyilas of Eagle Lake was totally destroyed by fire of an unknown origin early on Thursday morning last.

The blaze was noticed shortly after 2 a.m. and the Haliburton fire brigade was on the scene shortly after the alarm was sounded, but on their arrival they found that the fire had made such headway that little could be done other than to keep it under control.

They say lightning never strikes twice in the same place but to some people troubles never come singly and these fine folk are among these as Mrs. Nyilas is in a Toronto hospital where she underwent an operation for the removal of a tumor on the brain and at the time the fire occurred Mr. Nyilas was in Toronto to see his wife.

As no one apparently was or had been seen around the house, the cause of the fire remains a mystery.

Not only did they lose all their household furniture but Mr. Nyilas, who repairs electric motors and has his shop in the basement of his home lost all his tools.

We have been informed that there was some insurance but the loss will be heavy.

This couple, while comparative newcomers to this area, have during the time they have resided here, made many friends who are sorry to see them beset by such misfortune.

HALIBURTON NEWS LETTER...

We regret to report that Mrs. William McKnight had to be rushed to the local Red Cross outpost hospital due to having suffered a brain hemorrhage. However we learn at time of writing that she would appear to be making a satisfactory recovery.

A good many hunters were in this vicinity last week end and from what we can learn ducks are plentiful but so far few partridge have been bagged. Partridge are either very scarce or the heavy foliage remaining on the trees are affording them protection.

Members of the LOL and LOBA No. 975 chartered a bus on Sunday and 36 passengers were aboard for a trip to the Loyal True Blue Home at Richmond Hill. After a most enjoyable trip down the members were treated to a most delicious meal on their arrival. After a tour of the home the members of L.O.L. 975 presented them with a cheque for $100.

As a fund raising project, during the summer months, Highland Chapter No. 230 Order of the Eastern Star has been collecting nickels of the years 1949 and 1959. In order to promote interest, the membership was divided into two teams under captains Lillian Curry and Aileen Robertson.

At their last meeting, these nickels were turned in and counted, bringing quite a tidy sum. The winning side, by a very small margin, was Aileen Robertson and her members are looking forward to a party in the near future as their reward.

Chamber of Commerce Hold Regular Meeting

The following are the minutes of an executive meeting of the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce held on Wednesday, March 8 at the Rockcliffe Hotel, Minden. Present were Mrs. Lahay, Mrs. Kirkwood, Mrs. McKay, Messrs. Edwards, Hill, Arntfield, Waters and Park. The president, Robert J. Bishop Sr. was in the chair.

The minutes of the meeting held on January 11, 1961 were adopted as read on motion.

The president reported on the outcome of the attendance at county council in January of a delegation from the chamber. A grant of $1,500 was made.

Dollar-For-Dollar Grant

The secretary reported on telephone conversations with officials of the Dept. of Travel and Publicity which indicated the chambers of commerce promoting tourism would be included in this scheme. The secretary stated that a letter had been sent to Mr. J. R. McHattie, director of development brand of the Dept. of Travel and Publicity in Toronto, asking for further information and assurance regarding this matter in view of the chamber's urgent need to order supplies of promotional literature.

Report On Membership Drive

The secretary reported that 19 new paid up members had been enrolled as a result of the drive, so far, and that several businesses had promised to join.

Financial Statement

The treasurer reported a balance of $322.64 with an approximate estimate of monies yet to be received amounting to $4,150 plus the addition of the above mentioned grant. It was moved by Mrs. McKay and seconded by Mr. George Park that the report be adopted and that the outstanding accounts be paid. Carried.

Water Levels

Deep concern was expressed by all present regarding this problem and after discussion it was agreed that a committee of three should be formed to draw up a resolution for submission to the Minister of Transport in Ottawa, asking for an immediate meeting between the heads of all departments concerned and this Chamber, and any interested associations or individuals, for the purpose of discussing the matter and reaching a possible solution or agreement. On the motion of Mrs. Kirkwood, seconded by David Edwards, Robt. J. Bishop Sr., Ray Arntfield and Jack Hill were elected as a committee, and in view of the urgency of the matter, unanimous acceptance of their resolution was agreed upon without further reference to the executive.

General

The secretary reported that in response to letters sent to the private cottage owners an amount of $96 had been received, to date, which covered expenses. Mr. Jack Hill suggested that at a later date, the various cottage owners and ratepayers associations should be invited to join the chamber, entitling them to one voting member. This received general approval and the president expressed the hope that eventually a conservation section could be formed to work on the various problems in the county which come under this heading.

After discussion it was decided to invite the councils of all municipalities comprising the county to send a representative to the executive meetings of the chamber, and the secretary was instructed to mail announcements regarding all such meetings to the elected representatives.

Mr. Edwards raised the question of renaming the new park overlooking Minden at present known as Pike's Peak. It was generally agreed that a more attractive name could be found and that a competition should be sponsored for this purpose. As the efforts of the Rotary Club of Minden were responsible for the development of this area by the Dept. of Highways, the secretary was instructed to write congratulating them on their initiative and to offer assistance should it be decided by the club to sponsor a contest. A motion was made to this effect by David Edwards, seconded by Frank Waters. Carried.

There being no further business the president declared the meeting closed.

HOMEWORK ASSIGNERS OUTDATED

The teacher who assigns homework like a mechanic feeding his machines has fallen behind the times, a Toronto educator said in Halifax on September 18.

Murdock K. Macdonald, assistant superintendent of Toronto public schools, told a group of principals: "The teacher who assigns homework demonstrates incapacity. The teacher who inspires homework demonstrates perspicacity."

The industrial revolution spawned the idea that children could be educated on the mass production basis.

The trend today, he said, is not to produce the child with the perfect memory who can parrot back facts but the thoughtful child who thinks in terms of problems.

THE STANHOPE STORY

Chapter 13

Always active in community projects, Thomas Mason served both as township councillor and school trustee. Not long after the first log school, S.S. No. 3 on lot 8, concession 5, was erected by the settlers to serve the pupils between the Peterson and concession 12, it was burned to the ground by one who resented the extra taxes it represented. It was rebuilt at once and until St. Stephen's Anglican Church was constructed, it also served as both church and Sunday school.

The present frame school built on land purchased from Joe Beatty for $10 was contracted for in 1905 by Albert J. Hewitt, a descendant of the valiant Mrs. James who saved Thomas Mason's life. Its first quality pine lumber was bought for $12 a thousand from George Stevens who then owned the mill at the mouth of Buck Slides built by Daniel Buck in 1862. The first Stanhope saw mill had been erected earlier by William Cameron on the north branch of the river flowing into Boshkung. The first teacher in the new frame school was a Miss Robertson of Carnarvon who received $160 for a nine month school term. Total expenses for S.S. No. 3 that year were $304.50.

School teachers played an important role in the life of any pioneer settlement. A young man who preceded Miss Robertson caused quite a sensation with an article he wrote for the Minden Echo in which he hinted that dancing and card playing were "immoral pastimes."

The Stanhope correspondent for the Echo waded into the young teacher in fine style in its March 12, 1885 edition: "It has been since learned that this same teacher allows checkers to be played by his pupils and it is also alleged that he occasionally takes a hand in the game himself. This becomes the more obnoxious when the same teacher was so very emphatic in his lessons on 'recreation!' Does checker playing in schools come under the advanced theoretical mind of this gentleman as a 'moral recreation?' It is said he indulges in two kinds of 'recreation' himself—that of playing checkers in the daytime and learning the 'tailoring' business at night. Your correspondent would like to know how the teacher can reconcile his two theories?"

Now William Cooper, an ex-soldier of the 17th Leicestershire Regiment of Foot discharged after 11 years service, lived below the Mason farm. His wife, Fannie Sims had been a tailoress before her marriage and had trained their five unmarried daughters to be handy with a needle.

Imagine the fun at the poor teacher's expense this tidbit must have caused when the neighbors gathered at the home of Joseph Beatty, a genial Irishman from Belfast, who every Wednesday and Saturday night since the 1870's, when the post office was established, brought the mail from Minden.

Mr. Beatty never arrived before 8 or 9 p.m. and by the time the mail was sorted and its contents digested the air in the Beatty kitchen was blue with the smoke of the strong savoured tobacco the settlers used. Some of them had to travel great distances so before they set out for home, Mrs. Beatty often served the assembly with tea and sandwiches.

Just before an election this custom was discontinued for feelings ran so high that Tories and Grits sat on opposite ends of the big room and the division was too wide to be bridged by tea cup chat. Fortunately, when the election was over, hatchets were buried and neighbors spoke to each other again.

Who were the people who gathered to get their mail at Beatty's? A voters' list of 1883 lists them thus: Daniel Bull, Caleb Davis, T. Mason, Stephen Dawson, the Hewitts, James, William G. John and Benjamin, Reuben Hendedson, Joseph Pritchard who had been a Cavan Blazer, John and Charles Thomas, William and James Welch, James Buck, William Goodman, Edwin Johnston, Henry Perel, Sam Sims, Edward Upton, William and James Cooper and Isaac Morey.

The Moreys, Isaac and

Hannah, were unique because of their strange perantage—a neyro father and an Indian mother. They came from frantford where their mother, an Indian princess, had inherited a quarter section of excellent land where the city of Brantford now stands.

When Thomas Mason, living at Paris, was first introduced to Isaac Morey, the latter as manager of the family estate was directing a group of laborers from the back of a magnificent chestnut horse. When next they met, Morey, cheated of his birthright by lawyers who claimed there was a fault in his title, was penniless, robbed of everything but his pride and fierce independence. He and his sister were only too glad to take up land near the Masons on Big Boshkung where Isaac Morey's skill as a veterinarian soon made him a valuable addition to the growing community.

Letters To Editor

Dear Sir:

When I arrived at my cottage at Eagle Lake on September 17 to pick some apples I found my cottage in a deplorable condition.

The windows, doors and walls of the building were hit by bullets apparently from a high powered rifle. On further investigation I found that the lock in the door had been pulled out and many articles in the cottage had disappeared. In my opinion this was the work of a gang of hoodlums. It was unfortunate that we had to leave Eagle Lake but due to the damage to our cottage and the fact that drinking parties throughout the summer annoyed us, we decided to move to another locality.

We made a host of friends during our stay at Eagle Lake and to our knowledge we didn't have any enemies.

I am offering a reward to anyone who can supply me with information leading to the person or persons who did damage to my property.

Yours truly,
George Poleschuk,
R.R. 2 Burk's Falls, Ont.
